WHAT WE DO
The League registers voters and disseminates information about voting, to help make this basic right of citizenship a reality for every citizen. The League also provides information on community issues through our monthly Coffee & Conversation speakers and through interviews on our cable program, City People and Issues. We organize events to introduce candidates for state and local office and we encourage voters to submit their questions for debate. Young people are introduced to political careers through our state and county League programs, including Students in Albany.

PRESIDENT'S CORNER:
How can it be that this is the September issue of our newsletter? The summer whizzed by on a fast-moving carousel of extreme heat and intense rain, punctuated with a few notes of idyllic afternoons at water’s edge and evenings at outdoor concerts. However, I’ve been shaken into a September reality check by a barrage of pumpkin lattes at Starbucks, pumpkin pie ice cream at Carvel, and pumpkin spice whipped cream at Whole Foods! As summer draws to an end, we tend to “get serious” – teachers and students head back to school, legislatures reconvene, regular meetings of civic and social organizations resume.

With such seriousness of purpose in mind, it’s time for us to ask you to renew your membership, or join us and become a member for the first time. Throughout these challenging times for our country, the League of Women Voters continues its work insuring that every citizen has a voice in government. My report to you in our July Newsletter detailed the many activities and actions our League has taken to engage and inform citizens: voter registration; voter guides; candidate forums; cable television interview shows; student education programs; and advocacy on local and State issues. Your membership supports not only the efforts of the New Rochelle League, but also makes possible advocacy and action by the County (lww.org), State (lwvny.org) and National Leagues (lwv.org). Please visit their websites to learn about their work, Empowering Voters. Defending Democracy of which you as a member play a critical part.

You will find a membership form with mailing info later in this issue. To renew online, go to our website, www.lwvnewro.org, where you can use PayPal to pay membership fees and make a donation.

We welcome and encourage your participation at any level of commitment: paid membership; active participation in activities; attendance at a program; well-informed voting. --MONICA GREY
Let’s Get New York to the Polls

The New York State primaries — elections that might help determine the fate of the city’s subways, schools and housing and maybe even Donald Trump’s presidency — are on Thursday, Sept. 13. That’s right, a Thursday.

The election was initially scheduled for Tuesday, Sept. 11, but it was changed amid concerns that the date coincided with the Jewish holiday of Rosh Hashana and the anniversary of the 2001 terrorist attacks. Primary elections generally suffer from abysmal turnout, but the decision by the Legislature to hold the primaries on a Thursday — rather than another Tuesday — is likely to confuse voters and to lower turnout further, giving a bigger boost to incumbents.

Here are a few ideas to fight back and make these races for governor, attorney general, State Legislature and local judgeships more competitive. Depending on their party registration (and Democrats outnumber Republicans more than two to one in New York), voters have the chance to weigh in on Democratic, Republican or third-party primaries, and even unaffiliated voters can cast ballots, in the Reform Party primary.  —NY Times, 8/27/18

 Millions of Felons Are Getting Their Votes Back. Now They’re Learning To Cast Them.

What may be the biggest political revolution in decades is happening right under our noses. Enfranchisement (or re-enfranchisement) is on the march in America, as politicians, activists, and non-profits have taken up the mantle of extending voting rights to the disenfranchised and ensuring Americans know their voting rights and how to obtain the necessary documentation to vote.

Roughly 23 million Americans have felony convictions, and over 6 million of them have had their voting rights taken away. That’s twice as many disenfranchised Americans as there were in the 1990s and six times as many as in the 1970s.

Many of the remaining 17 million felons are unaware that they can vote, and many state legislatures have shown no interest in letting them know or have actively resisted efforts to do so.

While New York state still bans those convicted of felonies from voting if they are incarcerated or on parole, that too may also change. Earlier this year, New York Gov. Andrew Cuomo passed an executive order granting conditional pardons to New Yorkers on parole to restore their voting rights. Of the roughly 35,000 New Yorkers on parole who could not vote prior to this executive order, about 24,000 have received pardons thus far.

Legal Aid Voter Registration at Rikers Island and Training for Westchester County Jail

On August 5th the Legal Aid Society organized a voter registration at Rikers Island. LWVNR member Deborah Hussey, along with seven lawyers from Legal Aid and the NYCLU, registered about 100 incarcerated individuals as well as a few corrections officers. Applications for absentee ballots were also collected.

RegisterNY, conceived and coordinated by Jen Lackard of the Grace Baptist Church and founder of Race for Re-Entry, held its first training session for volunteers to register people at Valhalla over the coming month. RegisterNY will also hold several voter registration and voter education events in Westchester for the families of people who are incarcerated as well as returning citizens. Future training sessions for volunteers for both of these initiatives will be scheduled.

NATURALIZATION COURT

I had the opportunity to welcome newly naturalized citizens on August 23 at the Westchester County Courthouse on behalf of the LWV of New Rochelle. The Courthouse's empty lobby on that day belied the beehive of activity inside the crowded auditorium where, thirty minutes before the official ceremony, 120 soon-to-be-citizens sat waiting anxiously.

The Honorable David Everett, Supreme Court Judge, oversaw the hearing where County Clerk Timothy Idoni administered the Oath of Allegiance. The Justice welcomed the new Americans and their families and friends, and encouraged them to perform their civic duties, especially the act of voting. The Judge told them that the Board of Elections was set up in the lobby, and told the new citizens that they would make the League of Women Voters very happy if they registered.

After the hearing, the Justice and County Clerk awarded each new American a certificate of naturalization. We gave each one a U.S. flag, a flag lapel pin, and a LWVW Welcome New Citizens guide. I said, “Congratulations and remember to vote!” to each person, and received, in turn, happy smiles, strong affirmations, and questions on registering. And best of all, a hug from a thrilled new American!

Pennsylvania: They’re Young and They Want Change. Now They’re Ready to Vote for the First Time.
On an overcast afternoon this month, a block party was in full swing, the hot dogs were going fast, and Chris Underhill, freshly graduated from high school, was savoring a new milestone: He had registered to vote for the first time.
Filling out the form offered by a political activist not much older than him took about three minutes. But its significance was not lost on Mr. Underhill, 18, who grew up in this city on the edge of Amish country, 75 miles west of Philadelphia. An aspiring actor who helped organize a local march following this year’s deadly mass shooting in Parkland, Fla., Mr. Underhill said his everyday worries mirror those that fuel the anxieties of his generation, such as how to pay for college and losing access to health care. —Dan Levin, NYT, 8/25/18

HOW SECURE IS YOUR VOTE?
On May 22, 2018 a panel of experts came together to speak about the immediate threat to our democracy posed by our vulnerable election systems. The evening began with a New York Times video: "I hacked an election. So can the Russians" This was followed by a panel discussion: "Why is our voting process no longer secure and what can our legislators do about it?"
This timely event was sponsored by LWV Rivertowns, LWV Westchester and the Citizens for Voting Integrity New York. The video is well worth a look.
LOCAL LEAGUE MEMBERS MEET WITH COUNTY EXECUTIVE LATIMER

On August 13, members of the League of Women Voters of Westchester and local LWV presidents were welcomed into County Executive George Latimer’s 9th floor meeting room after hours, where the County Executive introduced his staff, discussed his priorities, and answered League questions over a buffet supper of sandwiches and salads.

Latimer pointed out that his highly qualified staff, some of whom had left higher paying jobs to be there, represented the diversity of the county. Latimer described his philosophy of governing as very different from his predecessor. Latimer described his view of government as a more expansice one that could include politically acceptable levels of tax increases, more shared services, new revenue sources, and increased transparency.

A new airport plan was announced that day that considers the airport as a transportation hub rather than primarily as a revenue source. The plan has significant public input and it monitors and limits air, water, and noise pollution.

After years of conflict with HUD (Federal Housing and Urban Development) resulting in the county losing millions of dollars promised in Community Development Block Grant (CDBG) funds, Latimer said plans are in place to work with 25 communities to reapply for CDBG grants. Some larger communities, including New Rochelle, receive CDBG funding independent of the county.

In response to League support of split shifts for election inspectors who now find the 17 hour day difficult, and claim that they got no response from the Election Commissioners (who are also party chairs) Latimer said the Board of Elections works independently of him, but noted that the League could suggest that the Board try experimenting with split shifts in one small village or town.

Latimer urged the Leagues to allow more time at its Candidates Forums for the candidates to give in depth answers to complex issues. He also said that the League had an important role as a nonpartisan source of information, and urged us to continue to be a source of unbiased information, identifying issues and giving pro and con information.

APARTMENTS PLANNED ON NORTH AVENUE
Many people have noticed and wondered about the demolition and construction on North Ave. just a block from City Hall at Fifth Ave. The city’s Industrial Development Agency gave the Young Cos. LLC the go-ahead for this project, the first of two, on January 25th of this year.

New Rochelle developer Robert C. Young sees North Avenue near Iona College as a prime place for development, and he is backing his belief with these two projects, budgeted at $90 million.

“I’m super excited,” Young said. “We’re going to change the face of North Avenue on that block.” The project is called North Avenue East and is centered on 2.15 acres at 583 North Ave., near Fifth Avenue. Young has assembled 13 parcels over the past eight years to create the site.

LEAGUE OF WOMEN VOTERS OF NEW YORK STATE

FROM THE STATE PRESIDENT

I'm writing this at the State Fair - at the League's voter registration corner in the Art and Home Center. I know that even if you don't register voters here you may well have been doing it somewhere else, so thanks for that too. Of course, the even more challenging job will come with candidate events and get out the vote (GOTV) efforts this fall.

And that’s got me thinking. With white people no longer the majority of Americans, what are we really doing to make sure we're serving all voters effectively? We know that we're more comfortable with America's changing demographics than many groups and in fact welcome the cultural diversity, but are we stretching ourselves out of our comfort zone to embrace this new reality?

As if reading my mind ErinLeigh Darnley (Syracuse LWV) came by the table a couple hours ago and mentioned that besides working at the League's state fair table later this week, she's also working at the NAACP's voter registration table. I asked how much they did together and she said there's an "Onondaga Votes" organization with lots of groups working together to get everyone voting. Could we all do something like this where we live? Candidate events too, I hope. Wouldn't this naturally lead to doing other events together - say, around issues? Ultimately might the League start to look like America?
